

JANUARY 3, 2023

BERNARD ARMOO ELEVATED TO PARTNER OF THE FIRM

Bryant Rabbino LLP is thrilled to announce that Bernard Armoo has been promoted to Partner effective January 1, 2023. Bernard regularly assists key clients of the firm on a range of capital markets and finance matters, mergers and acquisitions transactions and corporate and commercial matters, including the Metropolitan Transportation Authority; the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York; IMB Partners; The City of New York; PGIM, Inc., the principal asset management business of Prudential Financial; JPMorgan Chase; and JFK NTO, LLC, the operating company responsible for the development of The New Terminal One at JFK International Airport.

“Bernard’s elevation to Partner is a particularly significant event for the firm and for him as a professional. He is Bryant Rabbino’s first Partner to have risen through our ranks after starting his legal career with us in 2013,” said Seth Bryant, Managing Partner of the firm. “Bernard has shown a level of dedication to mastering the craft of lawyering and to client service that makes his promotion an easy decision for our partners. We welcome him as our peer and believe that he’ll continue to add tremendous value to the firm’s clients in this new role,” Bryant said.

Anne Adams Rabbino, the firm’s Deputy Managing Partner, said, “Bernard’s capability has been demonstrated and validated by the most important constituents, our clients, who appreciate his practical approach to problem solving, attention to detail and terrific personality, which can be a real plus on tough transactions.”

Bernard said, “I am truly honored to join the partnership of Bryant Rabbino LLP. It has been a privilege to learn from and practice with some of the top lawyers in the country here at the firm. Having begun my legal career at Bryant Rabbino as a law clerk and now transitioning to partnership, the journey has provided invaluable lessons. I am grateful for the opportunity to continue to collaborate with my colleagues within this new role in service to our clients and in furtherance of the continued success of the firm.”

Bernard Armoo was born in Ghana, West Africa, where he lived until he was a teenager. He then immigrated to Leeds, United Kingdom, where he attended and graduated from Wortley High School. Following high school, Bernard attended Leeds Metropolitan University, where he graduated with an LLB (Hons) Law Degree. While studying at Leeds Metropolitan University, Bernard served as the Treasurer of the Student Law Society and represented the university in National Moot Court and Negotiations competitions. After graduating from Leeds Metropolitan University, Bernard was awarded an academic scholarship to study at Wake Forest University School of Law, where he graduated with a Master of Laws (LLM). Bernard then relocated to New York, where he worked for the legal department of an energy consulting company before joining Bryant Rabbino LLP as a law clerk in 2013. Bernard has served Bryant Rabbino LLP and its clients for almost a decade, first as a law clerk, then as an associate and now as a partner. Bernard is a member of the New York City Bar Association (NYCBA). He is member of NYCBA's African Affairs Committee and its International and Comparative Law Committee. Bernard serves as a Trustee for 'Kidz Klub' Leeds and is a member of the Leadership Council for the Friends of the Children New York. Bernard is a Council of Urban Professionals (CUP) Fellow (Class of 2020). Bernard and his wife, Li Litombe-Armoo, reside in Riverdale, New York with their two children.

Bryant Rabbino LLP is a New York City based boutique, transactional law firm that provides services on capital markets and finance transactions, mergers and acquisitions, real estate matters, employment and ERISA matters, and general corporate and commercial matters. In 2022, Bryant Rabbino was ranked nationally as a Top Ten Bond Counsel law firm by The Bond Buyer. Bryant Rabbino is a leading firm on matters related to Minority and Women-owned business certification and in structuring joint-ventures and business combinations intended to result in entities eligible for such certifications. Bryant Rabbino is a member of NAMWOLF, the National Association of Minority and Women-Owned Law Firms.